

Focus on moods

- Pair up
- You each need a post-it.
- Talk about what you can do as a class to create a better atmosphere, and how you can support each other in it. Contemplate what your teachers can do and contemplate what you can do as students.
- Write at least two different suggestions on the post-its and post them on the door.
- When all contributions are posted, the class elects a speaker who reads all the suggestions aloud.
- All students in the class now choose two things which will have your focus for the rest of the week in your effort to create a better atmosphere in the class.
